Natural Teak Driftwood Life-size Horse Sculpture

A striking life-size horse sculpture composed of individually selected teak driftwood fragments, meticulously assembled to form the dynamic contours of the animal. The natural curvature and texture of each wood piece emulate the musculature, flowing mane, and graceful stance of the horse, creating a powerful balance between abstraction and realism.

The raw, untreated wood retains its organic grain, knots, and weathered patina, giving the sculpture a natural, almost skeletal quality while preserving a sense of movement and vitality. This piece embodies both strength and elegance, making it a commanding presence in any space.

Origin: Contemporary, likely Indonesian or Balinese artisan work

Material: Natural teak driftwood / reclaimed wood

Dimensions: Life-size (approximate scale of a real horse)

Style: Organic Modern Sculpture
